Message from your President – Terry Brodof

HAPPY 2020!

I hope we all took the opportunity to extend good wishes to our family, friends and neighbors. After all, New Year's marks a time when people everywhere celebrate a very Jewish tradition. We make a commitment to ourselves to do our best to continually try to build a better tomorrow for ourselves and for the world through Tikkun Olam.

I want to take a moment to thank our Sisterhood and all the congregants who provided a bit of extra joy and some basic needs in the form of holiday gifts and warm clothing to 40 kindergarteners and second graders who attend Ethel M. Taylor academy. Your commitment to providing for those in need, shines back so brightly in the smiles of the children we have cared for and provided warm clothing to over the past few years.

We have had a wonderful calendar year. To mention a few notables, we have paid off our mortgage. We have provided safety equipment for our Hamilton County K-9 unit. We have lent our services to Matthew Ministries, one of our neighbors, both in times of disaster and in quiet times when they are simply stocking the shelves in preparation for future needs. We have provided over 900 meals in OTR. We shared a community blood drive with two of our neighboring synagogues, Northern Hills and Temple Shalom and we have made legacy gifts to Jewish organizations throughout Cincinnati. We have provided toothbrushes, toothpaste, hand sanitizers, shampoo and toiletries to the needy downtown. We open our doors to the community during services and during all of our holidays and, we continually find opportunities to work with those friends and neighbors in need. New Year's is a time to look back and to also look ahead, all at once.

New Years at my house has changed as time has passed. About 25 years ago a new family moved into our neighborhood. I went over with a plate of cookies and introduced myself and my son Matthew to their youngest son, Stevie, who was Matt's age. Those neighbors, Toni and Jim, my husband and I, quickly built a friendship. We would stand outside at night in the front yard and talk for hours or have coffee, or a beer, indoors when it was inclement outside. During the summers we would spend hours sitting by their pool. During the winters we would spend Sunday afternoons eating snacks and watching football games while we attempted to solve all the world's problems together.

Over the years, we have become family. They are Catholic and I've learned a lot about their traditions. We are invited to their Christmas eve family party every year and they too are now experts on Jewish holidays and food. I take latkes over there every Chanukah. They are an expected and anticipated Chanukkah treat. I admit I am still appalled when the ketchup bottle gets pulled out of their fridge although...I've tasted it on latkes. Not so bad.

Although Toni and I easily became close friends, it took us awhile to encourage Matt to go over there and ask Stevie to come over to play and vice versa. For whatever reason, that friendship took a while to develop. The only common ground they found was that they lived on the same street. They were just 'neighbors'. Then one day, Matt was hitting whiffle balls at my garage door and they discovered a mutual love of baseball. Then it was Power Rangers, bike riding, poky man cards, football, the dairy whip, soccer and a love of video games. They have been best friends ever since. They spent the summers at Stevie's house, 'cause Stevie had a pool. They spent the winters and every weekend at our house. I made pancakes for Stevie about 45 weekends of the year. It was his favorite Sunday breakfast. My daughter Lauren still refers to Stevie as my favorite brother. Matt and Stevie had become inseparable. They found their common ground.

As Toni and I were getting to know each other, Toni asked me What's your New Year's resolution? Then she stopped and asked me if we celebrated New Year's Eve? I said yes but noted since I am Jewish, I also celebrate the Jewish New Year in September. She then invited our family over to their house New Year's Eve for a party. The kids and I have been invited there, or, to go out with them, for the last 25 years. We've missed a few New Years together but it is nice to realize I have traditions now with family I did not grow up with.

Once, when Toni and I were preparing food in her kitchen for some August picnic, Toni asked me what we did for the Jewish New Year? I said it's very different. We do a lot of praying. We go to shul then invite our family to our homes. We spend the day together. What else...we send out New Year cards. We make resolutions to be better people, devote ourselves to study and prayer and to performing deeds of kindness. We also apologize to those people who we may have harmed, even unintentionally, throughout the year. I added that I usually buy a new outfit to wear to Shul and everyone wishes everyone a happy and healthy New Year. I mentioned we prepare a meal of family favorite dishes and we serve round Challah instead of the long Challah we usually have. (Challah, another one of Stevie's favorite foods.)

Toni said oh ... so you do the exact same thing we do except... we pray the week before and make pizzells (round Italian anise cookies) instead of bread and do a bit more drinking. I replied no, it's different. It looks pretty similar from the outside but from inside it feels pretty different. She said I get it. You put candles in your windows for 8 days and we light up the whole house for a month. Similar but different. We usually manage to find some common ground.

I make it a point to call Toni every New Year's DAY. I tell her how much I think about her. That she is family and I acknowledge that I have been very busy at times and that I have neglected to walk over and just say hello. She usually laughs and says you're doing that Jewish thing for New Year's. I answer yep, and she replies, me too.

I mentioned when I started this note that the New year is a time to look back and a time to look ahead. I hope we all find ways to recognize the common ground we share, and that we continue to try to build a better tomorrow throughout the year.

Ritual Committee members: Co-Chairs: Barry Joffe & Barbara Taggart-Milberg; Members: Emmy Friedenberg, Lynne Haber, Candy Kwiatek, Hank Lerer, Chava Vidal, Robyn Wolfe

Since Chanukah came late this year – or we can say last year if it's already 2020 when you read this! – we may still be able to wish you a "Happy Chanukah!". If the holiday has just ended, we hope you had eight days of joyful and meaningful celebrations. Just for the record, next Chanukah in 2020 begins on Thursday, December 10th.

Thank you to those of you who gave us feedback from our 5780 High Holy Day services. We discussed your constructive comments at last month's meeting and will make any necessary adjustments at this next year's 5781 services. You've all heard about our upcoming retreat weekend February 7-9. To those attending, we will involve every one of you in at least one of the multiple services offered.

To everyone, attending or not, an important note: Since we're taking the show on the road that weekend, there will be NO services held in Cincinnati that weekend.

It's again timely for our Minyan Committee to thank the many minyanaires for the ongoing support of our Yarzheit Minyan program. We see this as truly one of the hallmarks of our community. Thanks, too, to the Minyan Committee for really embracing this important function.

You know how many services and events are offered at Etz Chaim – many! Well, January is a little quieter than some other months, but it still has its full share of services which all are encouraged to attend. And speaking of attendance, we hope you all received and filled out the survey (printed on yellow pages) that came with your last bulletin. The online link is also available through your eBlast. It is very important to us to receive this feedback from you.

Thanks to our CYJL Campaign for acquiring 20+ new copies of Friday night Likrat Shabbat in recognition of members who have added their Letter of Intent to our Jewish Legacy efforts.

As always, if you have a concern that you want the Ritual Committee to address, please contact one of us and we will be sure to discuss it at our next meeting.

Again, we hope you had a wonderful Chanukah and we wish you a very happy New Year 2020.

VOLUNTEER WITH CEC AT THE OVER-THE-RHINE SOUP KITCHEN HERE ARE OUR UPCOMING 2020 DATES:

JANUARY 19
MAY 31
SEPTEMBER 13
DECEMBER 13

On Thursday, December 26, 2019 the Thursday morning Minyanaires came together for a special annual tradition of fun and celebration:

MYSTERY MACABEE GIFT EXCHANGE

The hot ticket items this year were a football beer mug, moose munch and Belgium chocolates

You need only look at these photos to see that a good time was had by all.
Thank you to all who participated!

Shots

Lox

& Blocks

One of best kept secrets is our Thursday morning minyan. Minyan Captain David Weil and all the minyanaires would love to have more congregants join us. Remember shots, lox and blocks after minyan sets you 'on fire' for the day!

We meet every Thursday at 7am in the Chapel. Steve leads a beautiful hour-long service and sometimes Bryan and Hank will pinch hit if needed. In that hour, there are morning blessings, a short Torah reading service and several chances to say Mourner's Kaddish.

The cast of characters that attend this early morning service are fun loving caffeine drinkers (minus Ron – Mr. Decaf) that are always happy to welcome in new faces.

Breakfast follows services and consists of Bagels, Lox, Cream Cheese, Butter, Jellies, Coffee, Tea, OJ and shots. Sometimes we are even treated to a pastry or two. Table conversations are always riveting and include humor, current events, religion, twitter, celebrities, movies, trivia, stories from days gone by and so much more... Why not try it one Thursday morning – you just may find you like it.

We look forward to seeing you soon!

Thursday Morning Minyan Mystery Macabee 2019

Congregation Etz Chaim * Kallah/Retreat * February 7-8-9

We are looking forward to spending the weekend offsite as a congregation.

The itinerary includes socializing, services, fun, learning, mixers (both ice breakers and drinks) and so much more.

While the deadline has passed if you are now able to attend please contact Chava to see if there is any way we might be able to accommodate you (depends on the hotel!)

Chestnuts may be roasting on an open fire... But our minds are already turning to Hammantashen.

And we need your help:

We will begin baking hamentashen in February; a schedule of baking dates will be in next month's bulletin. Please bring in preserves and nuts, as you did last year, for our "special Sisterhood" filling. Please be sure that preserves and jams have a hechsher (kosher symbol) and that the nuts (pecans, almonds, walnuts) are shelled and in bags with a hechsher.

It's time for the 2020 Mah Jongg card!

Our Sisterhood is once again providing you the opportunity to purchase your card through us. It will be sent directly to your home. It will cost the same as if you purchased it from the Mah Jongg League, but our Sisterhood will receive a rebate. The cost is $8.00 for the standard size and $9.00 for the large print.

All you need to do is send a check to Sandy Baden, 4135 Fox Hollow Dr., Cincinnati, OH 45241, with the following information, or drop your check and info off at the Etz Chaim office. Call with any questions: 513-554-1649 or 513-470-6428.

We need your name, address, choice of card size and check. In late March you will receive your new card directly from the Mah Jongg League.

Please pass this information on to your friends, your Mahj group, and anyone you know who plays the game. Please note that I need a name and address for each card ordered. I cannot order multiple cards for a group and send them to one address. The deadline for orders is January 10, so please get your orders in as soon as possible.

Thank you to everyone who participated in our "Helping Hand" social action drive collecting mittens, gloves, socks, hand sanitizers, and hand warmers for those less fortunate. Our donations were literally overflowing. Thank you!

Watch for photos from our Chanukah Hoe-down and the 230+ smiling faces that attended in the February Edition of the Bulletin! Yeehaw!

STOP THE SPREAD OF THE FLU

Adults 65+ are at a higher risk of serious complications from the flu

PROTECT YOURSELF AND THOSE AROUND YOU.

- + Get your flu shot
- + Clean your hands often
- Cough and sneeze into the bend of your arm, not your hand
- + Stay home if you are sick

Shalom Dear Members,

We care for each of you and want to remind you that as members of our Kehillah Kedosha – our Holy Community we have an obligation to keep ourselves and our fellow members free from illness.

Don't get us wrong – we LOVE when you come to shul – but please if you have fever, are coughing/sneezing or if you're feeling under the weather – just stay home. (Heck if you call us and let us know we'll even send soup!)

Wishing you all a safe and healthy winter season.

Aaron Schechtman Men's Club President

The song is a tradition that comes with the Chanukah holiday. "Dreidel, dreidel, dreidel, I made it out of clay and when it's dry and ready, a dreidel we shall play." The Men's Club of Etz Chaim and Temple Sholom has added another verse. "We made latkes all day and fried them 'til they were crispy and tasty"

We won't tell you how many pounds of potatoes we used or how much oil was needed, but let it be known that we made over 700 yummy latkes for the evening event.

A party for the cowgirls and cowboys was the event of the night. We were not spinning like the dreidel, but swinging while square dancing. Our latkes were enjoyed by all and topped off with jelly donuts.

We would like to thank all the men and women of both Men's Clubs for their hard work and a fun day while providing the treats for the evening dinner

Building Bridges, Closing Gaps

By: Brian Wolfe

At long last, Pub Style Trivia has come to Etz Chaim. This was the inevitable conclusion to all the trivia hosting that Hank has done the last few years. What trivia hosting, you ask? Did you know that once each month or so, our own "Master of Trivia" Hank Lerer hosts (and entertains) residents at Cedar Village, with trivia? Shameless plug; it is open to everybody. Come out, visit the residents and do a mitzvah – You know you want to. See calendar for official date and time. In addition to Cedar Village, Itank also helins questions and answer trivia on Shabba, which started as random trivia question, that morphed into kiddish trivia and has now culminated in "Hank's Trivia, Live from Etz Chaim".

Pub (or bar) style trivia is played by teams of up to 6 players with one as mere submitted per team. Form your own team (6 max) or just show up and you can join a team. Each of the 5 questions per round has a team selected number of points awarded for correct answers. You don't have to be an expert in any category. Pool your answers, select the best one. The cohost Chava plays a song for each question that may or may not be a clue to the answer.

Rules are simple:

No yelling out answers

No cell phones or other electronic devices

No yelling out answers

No cell phones or other electronic devices

Trivial host will have final say in all circumstances during play.

Last and most important: Have fun Ill

December 8th was the first night in the Trivia Scries and 5 teams competed with a "not your normal bur food" dinner served midway through the evening. Categories included Business, Arts, Movies, Geography, Sports and more. Scores were close with all teams competitive, but alus, there can be only one winner. Congratulations to the winning team: "Sunday Night Special".

Please mark your calendar and make your reservation now for the next Trivia night in town. If for some reason you can't venture out on the 26th, the last Trivia night for the season will be held on February

Hank's Trivia Night

It's fun for the entire family and congregants of all ages.

You need not be a genius or even be good at trivia to have a good time.

This is team based and everyone has something to contribute - each question is a different topic like Broadway musicals, history, pop culture, music, sports, movies and more...

It's modeled after bar style trivia and we will provide snacks and a light supper to those that RSVP.

Sign up as an individual or as a team of 6 – prizes to the winners each session.

Sunday, January 26 – 6pm Sunday, February 23 – 6pm

You can come to one session or all – we know once you try it though – you'll be hooked! Just imagine the bragging rights that come with winning trivia!

Need a ride we can arrange it!

Don't sit home alone this winter

Come out and be part of a fun filled evening.

Side door entrance and you'll arrive at the CEC trivia lounge (aka the lobby)

RSVP to Hank or Chava Try it once – we guarantee you'll like it!

YAHRZEIT - Begins the evening before the date listed above. Kaddish should be recited the evening before the above listed date, and the following day at both morning and afternoon services.

Congregation Etz Chaim is proud to offer minyanim upon request. If you would like to observe the Yahrzeit of a loved one and it occurs on a date that we do not have services scheduled, please email our Minyan Committee at CECMinyan@gmail.com or call 513-373-1552 and leave a message.

A member of our Minyan Committee will work on arranging your minyan. If you would like to request a minyan please do so ten (10) days in advance of the date you will need the minyan. When a minyan is requested a member of the committee will send out an email to people who have signed up to help us ensure we always have ten people in attendance.

If you would like to sign up to help us ensure minyanim please contact Barbara Taggart Milberg or Barry Joffe and ask to add your name to the list.

We are a community and we are strengthened by each other.

Thank you in advance for helping us perform and fulfill these good deeds.

Welcome to our newest Member: LISA TESSEL

By Bob Friedenberg

Amongst our newest members is Louisville native Lisa Tessel. Lisa was raised in a traditional Conservative/Orthodox environment. She attended Sunday school regularly and services frequently. Among her best memories are those associated with Purim. She has vivid memories of participating in costume contests centered on that festive holiday.

After graduating high school, Lisa attended Indiana University in Bloomington. Upon completing her schooling at Indiana, eventually Lisa moved to Chicago for a job. While there she met the man who would eventually become her husband. He was a native Cincinnatian and so the young married couple soon were residents of the Queen City. They joined Ohav Shalom, where her husband's family had been active members for many years.

Lisa soon also became an active member of the Jewish community. Her two daughters attended Yavneh until the 7th grade and Lisa was an active parent at Yavneh. Currently her daughters do not live here in Cincinnati. One is married and lives in Manhattan. The other is located in Chicago and has a Ph.D. in Botany.

Though Lisa was widowed many years ago, she had at one time been a member of Ohav Shalom. However, while Lisa eventually let her membership lapse, she still had friends and relatives who were members here and from time-to-time attended services and events at the old Ohav and the new Etz Chaim.

She has recently re-affiliated with Congregation Etz Chaim for a variety of reasons. She has very much enjoyed the services she has attended, especially those at the High Holidays. Moreover, she has friends in the synagogue and has found everyone to be very welcoming and nice.
